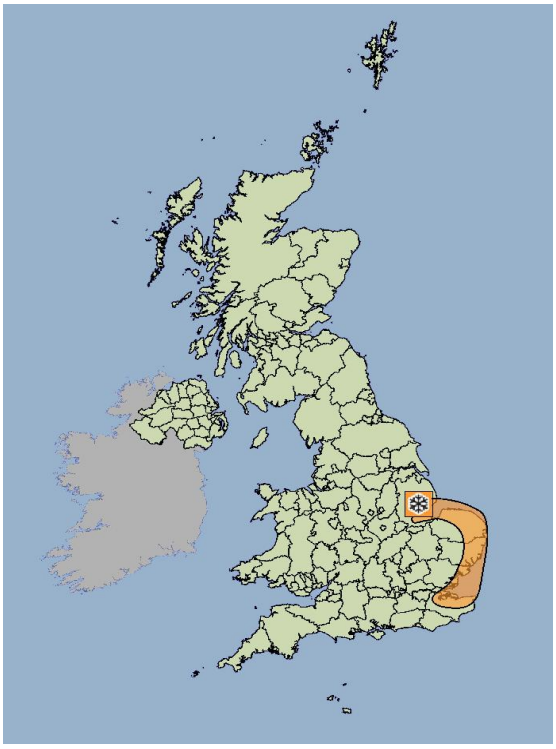
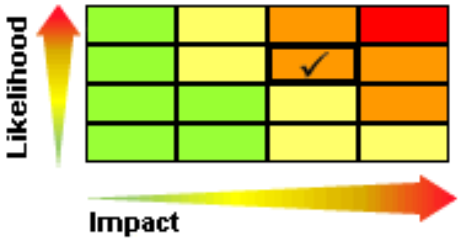
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Snow showers will bring variable snow cover, with the likelihood of 5 to 10 cm of snow in a number of places, and locally 15 cm where showers are most frequent. Strong winds will lead to drifting of snow and severe wind chill, while lightning could be an additional hazard, particularly near coasts.

The Met Office have issued an Amber Warning of Snow

Valid from 00:30 on Wed, 28th Feb 2018 until 10:00 on Wed, 28th Feb 2018

Heavy snow showers are expected overnight and during Wednesday morning.

Travel delays on roads are very likely, with snow perhaps leading to some stranded vehicles and passengers; delays or cancellations to rail and air travel are also likely. Some rural communities could become cut off. Power cuts may also occur and other services, such as mobile phones, may be affected.
